Mrs. Ruby Irons Selected Church Mother of the Year

"Many have served but few are chosen", but to one Hilltop lady, her efforts and contribution to community and church has been recognized.

Mrs. Ruby Irons, 2332 So. Ainsworth has been selected as the St. John Baptist Church "Mother of the Year" by a committee of judges from the church. The plaque was inscribed "Mother of the Year — Presented by St. John Baptist Church — 1972" attesting to her energy and aggressiveness of service to God and the needs of others.

The award was presented to Mrs. Irons at the 11:00 a.m. church service May 14.

Mrs. Irons was singled out for her long and effective service to the church. She has served as chairman of the Pastor's Anniversary Committee, Remodeling and Planning Committee, President of the Junior Mothers, Instructor for the Mother's Board and Directoress of Music for the church.

Courage, faith and love are Mrs. Irons' hallmarks. The mother of one has opened her home and heart to foster children. In addition to running a household, she finds time to attend PLU where she is working towards a degree in education and serves as a teachers aide with elementary school children.

Mrs. Irons has been described as one of the "beautiful mothers" of the church serving in various capacities during her 15-year church membership.

9th Infantry Ceremony May 26

Fort Lewis, Wash.--The 9th Infantry Division will be reborn here with a bang.

A massive activation ceremony befitting the proud honors of the "Old Reliables," complete with an exciting, varied activities program, is planned for May 26 at Gray Army Airfield.

Many dignitaries are expected to attend.

The activation, set for the main runway area of the airfield, will follow by several days the arrival of the new Fort Lewis and 9th Division commander, Major General William B. Fulton.

Major General Alexander R. Bolling, Jr. the present commanding general, is departing for duty as chairman of the U.S. delegation to the joint Brazil-U.S. Defense Commission.

The honors, ceremonies, demonstrations, displays, and fanfare for activation will absord Armed Forces Day participation by the post. Only a few very limited commitments have been accepted by Fort Lewis for Armed Forces Day observances on May 20.

The combined Armed Forces Day and 9th Infantry Division activation ceremony--Operation Octofoil--is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. and conclude at 5 p.m.

Highlight of the program will be a formal review at 2 p.m. in which all elements of the embryo division and post units will parade.

Hangars and the strip area around them will overflow with equipment displays, amusements for youngsters, and refreshment stands.

A parachute jump by a 12-man special forces team, a helicopter-infantry combat assault demonstration, and a helicopter fly-by, medevac demonstration and individual skydivers will be seen.

Social activities that evening will include an invitational formal dinner hosted by the commanding general folled by a ball at Jensen Gym, an NCO ball and dinner at the Fort Lewis Noncommissioned Officers Open Mess, and an EM ball at the Cascadian Service Club.

Organization of some division elements is already underway, along with the staff work and myriad preparations necessary for those units to follow. Build-up of the division to authorized strength will take place in the months of this year and the early part of 1973.

George Wallace Faced the Face of Evil

Once again, with the gunning down of Governor George Wallace, the American people have been shocked by political tragedy.

In less than 10 years, we have watched in horror the killing, and near killings, of many of our political leaders. And, as Americans, we are shaken by each tragedy, regardless of the political complexion of the victim.

In a recent public meeting, a friend said "I can understand your outrage at the slayings of Martin Luther King, John and Robert Kennedy, Malcolm X. But George Wallace? I don't understand."

Well, it's really pretty easy to understand.

Yes, George Wallace is a bigot and a racist.

Yes, where Dr. King gave his life for integration, Wallace has devoted his to segregation. Where the Kennedys offered us empathy, Wallace has given us scorn.

Yes, George Wallace preaches the gospel of exclusion in a land dedicated to inclusion, Wallace spreads seeds of hate.

George Wallace preaches separatism in a country founded on unity.

All of these things we deplore, and oppose, and shall continue to fight.

But George Wallace is also a human being, and the attempt to assassinate any human being for speaking his mind in a country dedicated to free speech is a shocking indication of the sickness that has infested our land.

For violence is a sickness, and one we must cure or lose the land we all love.

Violence is an evil, spawned from an unholy alliance of our two biggest enemies—poverty and racism.

So long as we continue to permit millions of people in this country to endure with helpless agony the indignities and deprivations of poverty, and so long as we continue to preach racism and separatism, we will continue to generate atmospheres of civil strife which eventually and inevitably explode in violence.

The attack on George Wallace is, indeed, the final and conclusive proof that unleashed hatred plays no favorites; its lightning can strike right, center and left.

We must get promptly to the business of curing this sickness. We must find a solution to the explosive frustrations of our people who starve while watching a handful flaunt their luxury. And we must educate ourselves and our children out of the dangerous and inhuman doctrine of racism.

Right on!

Big No. 1 Finally Came Home

After nineteen years working in the Army Supply System, CW2 Richard E. Nash's curiosity is finally satisfied.

Yes, Virginia, there really is a No. 1."

Nearly two decades of working with the Army's astronomical serial numbering system had made the 58th Signal Battalion's Property Book Officer rather skeptical that the whole thing had ever started anywhere.

When one logs in Underground Cable layers with serial numbers like 18-497-356TP-3, the natural question is, "What in the world is the Army doing with the other eighteen and a half million cable layers." It just can't be.

Last week, however, Nash found out that perhaps it can be.

Much to his amazement, Lc236 Underground Cable Layer, SERIAL NUMBER 1, was turned in by Comapny C. 58th Signal Battalion. The device, bearing SNI, and not 00001 or anything like it, was made by the Entwhistle Manufacturing Company of Providence, Rhode Island.

Now CW2 Nash is back to wondering about the other 18,499,000 Underground Cable layers.

MENTAL DIET

by: Evangelist Chas Walker.....Holgate St. Church of Christ

SYMTONS OF A DECLINING SPIRITUAL LIFE

1. When you grow bolder in sin and when you are more easily tempted in sin.
2. When you make a small matter of those sins that were once grevious and intolerable.
3. When you settle down to a course of religion that gives you little labor, and work.
4. When God and our Saviour grow dim and when religion becomes men and their books, rather than God and His book.
5. When you delight more in hearing and talking rather than in secret prayer and the Word.
6. When you observe grace at meals more as a matter of duty than as pure delight in your heart.
7. When you grow hot in arguing some specific point or forwarding some particular party than in Him.
8. When you grow harsh and bitter toward others who differ from you rather than love and tenderness toward all.
9. When you regard too much the eye of man and not enough the eye of God, and you stay at home.
10. When your ministry to the lost becomes a hardship and unbearable rather than a pleasure.
11. When you make light in preparing for the Lord's Day and the Lord's table.
12. When our desire for material gain and comforts of the world interfere with God's will for our lives.
13. When you think more of the money you owe for bills than you do of the money you owe to the Lord.

 The best use of life is to spend it for something that outlasts it.

 It is better to remain silent and appear a fool, than to speak and remove all doubt.

ONLY ONE "T" IN DIRTY

He was not too well educated, and his manner was somewhat rough and crude. He became a Christian and was on "fire for the Lord" and kept pestering the preacher to help him be of some genuine service to his Saviour.

In desperation, the preacher handed him a list of ten names with this explanation: "These are all members of the church, but they seldom attend our services. Some of them are prominent men of the city. Contact them anyway you can and try to get them to be more faithful. Here is some church stationery you may use to write them letters. Get them back to church."

The man accepted the challenge with enthusiasm and rugged determination. About three weeks later a letter came to the church office from a prominent physician in the city - him name had been on the list. Inside the letter was a $1,000 check and this note:

Dear Preacher:

Enclosed is my check for $1,000 to make up for my missed contributions. I'm sorry for mission worship so much, but be assured that I will be present this coming Lord's day and every Lord's day following.

I will not by choice miss worship again.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. M. B. Jones, M.D.

P.S. Will you please tell your secretary that there is only one "t" in dirty and no "c" in skunk?

"Brother and Sister John Crumpy hurriedly leave services every Sunday morning just as the last Amen is said. They enjoy meeting no one, but leave to complain about the unfriendliness in the Church."

PROPORTIONATE GIVING

As long as a man thinks that he owns what he has, then the church will always appear to him as a begger appealing to him to part with enough to meet her needs. The church is everlastingly depending upon his good-will and impulses of generosity. But once a man realizes that he owns nothing, but owes everything, that he is merely a temporary steward of all that he is and has, and that his very life is given him trust, then the proper proportion of his gifts to the Lord's cause will be forth-coming. Many people are not giving in proportion to their income. They have been in the habit of spending for their own comfort and convenience and giving God a little of what happened to be left. Since many of them live right up to the limit of their income, there is, from their standpoint, some logic in their claim that they cannot raise their contribution. How is it with you?

"Why don't you go to church?" said the preacher to a non-church-goer.
"Well, I'll tell you; the first time I went to church, they dunked me in water, and the second time they hitched me to a woman I've had to keep ever since," said the smart-aleck.
"Yes," said the preacher, "and the next time you go, they will throw dirt on you!"

Youth Employment Service

YES by Debbie Ross

The Youth Employment Service is moving forward. We are accomplishing things people said we could not do. When I say we I mean, the youth that are involved with the program. We are getting out and doing follow ups on pledges promised us by businessmen and homeowners. There are 114 pledges already made. We have 23 young people hired and working from such pledges. This is not all we have done. The Personnel Technicians have processed over 300 applications, and some of these applicants are being screened and counseled by Junior Counselors. So you see, we the youth are working with our program and are not sitting down. We are getting things accomplished.

3rd Battalion Conducts Combat Situations

Fort Lewis, Wash.--Mechando, an intra-battalion competitive field training exercise testing overall howitzer knowledge in combat situations, was conducted by the 3rd Battalion, 18th Artillery, 212th Artillery Group, at the Yakima Firing Center May 1.

A 25-mile course with ten testing stations was used to determine the Battalion's best howitzer crew. Each station tested the crew's proficiency, speed and accuracy in various tactical situations ranging from close cambat operations using the M-16 rifle and .50 caliber machine gun, to firing the 155 mm howitzer utilizing methods of zeroing on targets.

After one orientation, navigation from station to station was left solely to each crew aided only by a compass a map, a list of grids, and a schedule of arrival times. Crews were penalized for being off the specifies course, being late, or breaking a speed limit.

In addition, each of the six-man crews was tested in areas forcing individuals to utilize basci skills, such as first aid, howitzer maintenance, communications, and gas warfare.

By dusk, the exercise ended after ten hours in the dusty sparsely shrubbed hills of the Firing Center.

After returning to the battalion area that night, the top crew with a score of 95 out of a possible 120 received a trophy and a celebration in their honor.

Your Health

John F. J. Clark, M.D., Facog

A NEW MEDICAL COLUMN WHICH EMPHASIZES THE HEALTH AND MEDICAL PROBLEMS OF WOMEN

"Sometimes they simply think they should not bother the doctor." I said this in an earlier column when I was talking about women who put off going to the doctor or who, when they do go, don't tell him about something that worries then.

Every doctor knows the patient who starts out "I don't want to bother you with this, doctor, but ..." and then goes on to tell him the most important thing she has said that day!

You have the same thing happen with your children. Your son comes home from school and tells you what Billy said and where Willie Mae went over the weekend. Then when you're in the middle of something else, he says, "I'm the rabbit in the first grade play Friday. You have to make me a rabbit suit!" You don't expect him to know it takes you time to make that suit. Your doctor doesn't expect you to know which symptoms are important or unimportant.

Other times a woman puts off going to the doctor or calling him for a slightly different reason. You h ave--or think you have---a problem. You want to tell the doctor about it, but you are more worried about the doctor's reaction and what he will say, than you are about whatever your problem is. You are afraid he will just say, "Now, now, that's nothing," as if you were a child, or that what you tell him will irritate him and he will show his displeasure with you. Maybe you fear that what you say will be embarrassing to you. You could be afraid the problem is really serious, cancer perhaps, and you don't want to face it.

For one of these reasons, you decide not to say anything. You hope the problem will go away and you won't need to tell the doctor about it at all. If you don't tell him, you won't be interrupting his busy schedule, taking his time unnecessarily.

Not one of these reasons is any good. If the problem is really serious, delay could mean discomfort or pain, a longer treatment time, even your life.

Army Recruiting

Young women are urgently needed by the United States Women's Army Corps to be trained in a variety of jobs with the Army, according to SFC Rollie M. Pratt, local Army recruiter.

Now that the Army is rapidly moving toward the goal of an all-volunteer Army, opportunities for young women to prepare for their future are even more numerous than before, he commented.

Army schools are recognized nation wide for their excellent vocational training and methods of instruction.

For detailed information on the Women's Army Corps, contact SFC Pratt at 2000 Tacoma Mall, Suite 101 or call GR 2-9656.

1,726 drug deaths in 1971

SAN FRANCISCO -The nation had 1,726 fatalities from drug overdoses in 1971, more than half of them in New York, the American Social Health Association reported.

New York had 899 deaths from opiate overdoses—mainly heroin—followed by Los Angeles County with 252. Chicago had 190 deaths, Washington 82, Pittsburgh 64, Detroit 58, Baltimore 55, San Francisco 55, Dallas 18, Portland, Ore., 16, Cincinnati 14, Cleveland 14, Honolulu 5, and Milwaukee 4.

Judge says no more babies

SAN FRANCISCO —Glenn Miller Perkins, whom a judge threatened with jail if he fathers a seventh illegitimate child, appealed to the California Supreme Court for the "right to procreate."

Specifically, Perkins wants the court to call off Superior Judge James J. McCarthy of San Bernardino County, who placed him on probation in 1969 for failure to provide child support for two offspring.

The judge later added a special requirement—that Perkins was "not to procreate any illegitimate children he is not able to support so that they will become a welfare charge..."

Perkins had fathered six children by five women, according to court records.

INFERNO

A fine water spray from a UH-1D helicopter clears the way for a resuce team entering a simulated crash site at Ft. Bragg, N. C. The men from the 132nd Medical Detachment can remove the entire crew of an aircraft in 30-45 seconds while the flame retardant equipment on board the helicopter can provide four or five minutes protection. Signs of the times

The United States has recently begun changing to international road and traffic signs adopted at the 1968 United Nations Conference on Road Traffic held in Vienna.

The signs have become standard throughout European nations and other major countries of the world. These pictorial signs are easier to understand than present signs, and the changeover is designed to help reduce the number of traffic accidents and fatalities.

People comprehend symbols faster than words, and this factor could be a life saver on the roads. The new signs should completely replace present signs by the end of 1974.

Burgohy was the all-events champion in the woman's division, while Andrew D. Wood from nearby Madigan General Hospital was the men's all-events titleist.

Wood and Jerry Gift combined forces to bring home the men's doubles crown to Madigan. Nancy Hansen and Nancy Hinkelman claimed the woman's doubles title for Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

The Madigan men took team honors with an 8537 pin total, swueezing past Fort Lewis' men's team by 39 points.

NCO Club plans test of credit card system

A credit card system similar to Bank Americard and American Express will soon be tried at the Fort Lewis NCO Club.

Capt Bruce E. Jesson, installation club manager, told sergeants major at their luncheon Thursday that a 30-day test of the system is scheduled to begin May 15.

"It will provide better service for the customer and be good business for the club," Capt Jesson said.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS ABOUT
WOOD in HOUSING

A little-known fact about wood can save you a small fortune on heating bills.

For most people, wood is the most coveted building material around. Simply because it's beautiful.

But what many people don't realize is that wood is also a great insulator. It insulates 6 times better than brick, 15 times better than concrete, 1770 times better than aluminum.

The result is a wood-frame house will keep you warmer in winter, cooler in summer. Exactly how much money it can save you we can't say. But a university test showed that a wood house used 26% less fuel in winter, 18% less in summer than an identical masonry house.

If you have wood windows, you'll save even more. And wood windows won't condense water and drip it on sills, drapes and walls.

For more facts and a free guide to wood products, write American Wood Council, 1619 Massachusetts Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036.

MAYOR STOKES BECOMES NEWSCASTER. —The occasion was marked by a bit of humor March 30 when Carl Stokes, left, former mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, and Paul Udell, right, veteran West Coast newsman, held a news conference in New York where it was announced that they will co-anchor WNBC-TV's "News 4 New York" daily news program. They are scheduled to make their first appearance on the show May 15. "The firing-line experience with a major city's problems" which Stokes gained as mayor of Cleveland was one of the factors involved in his being selected for the position. The former mayor's salary was reported to be $125,000 a year.
